

WELCOME!

STATE EMPLOYEES
Giving. Caring. Sharing.

Join our state employee tradition of giving, caring and sharing by signing up for the Colorado Combined Campaign.

What is the Colorado Combined Campaign?

The Colorado Combined Campaign (CCC) is the charitable workplace giving campaign of Colorado state government employees. The state established the campaign in 1987 as a beneficial way for employees to easily and efficiently donate to nonprofits and support their communities.

How does donating through the CCC work?

As a state employee, you are in charge of your giving. Each year, you can choose from 550 Colorado nonprofits that represent 20+ cause areas and every corner of the state (see the CCC Resource Guide for all of the options available to you). You can also decide how to give. Most employees give through payroll contribution (a few dollars each pay period), but you can also make a recurring credit card donation or a one-time donation with cash, check or credit card. There is no minimum donation. Signing up is easy, either online or with a paper form. However you participate, you're a part of a culture of giving that helps our state be even better.

What's the advantage of workplace giving?

Workplace giving has traditionally been one of the most popular ways for people to give. Because you give incrementally (a little bit each pay period), you can give more than you might ordinarily be able to. It's empowering. Also, the strength of many donors coming together to give keeps administrative costs low, both for the campaign and for the recipient charities.

How much has the CCC raised over time?

Since 1987, the CCC has raised more than $34 million for Colorado charities. In 2017, state employees made 5,846 donations totaling nearly $950,000. Donors on average gave $371 apiece, or about $30 per paycheck.

Who runs the CCC?

The CCC is overseen by state employees, for the benefit of state employees. An Advisory Committee of employee volunteers from across state government meets each month to set policy, approve plans and budgets, and evaluate participating nonprofits. (Look in the Resource Guide for our current Advisory Committee officers and members.) The CCC is an independent, audited nonprofit organization registered with the Colorado Secretary of State. It is managed day to day by Community Shares of Colorado, an expert in workplace giving campaigns.

How do I sign up?

Anytime of year, you can use a paper pledge form like the one attached. After you fill it out, return it to your institution's payroll department. During active campaign season (September through January), you can also sign up online at www.ipledgeonline.org/coloradocombinedcampaign. Learn more about the CCC anytime at www.coloradocombinedcampaign.org.
