

State Employees Charitable Giving Campaign | Sept. 12–Dec. 30

What is the Colorado Combined Campaign?

The Colorado Combined Campaign (CCC) is the annual charitable workplace giving campaign of Colorado state government employees. The state established the campaign in 1987 as a beneficial way for employees to easily and efficiently donate to a wide array of nonprofits and support their communities. Since then, state employees through the CCC have raised more than $36.8 million for Colorado charities. The average donation comes to about $1 per day.

Who can participate?

The CCC is a benefit of employment for all state workers. It was created by executive order in 1987 and has been endorsed by Colorado governors ever since. Nearly 60 state agencies and state colleges and universities—and thousands of state-employee donors—participate each year.

Who can I give to?

You can choose from more than 400 Colorado charities that represent more than 20 different cause areas and every corner of the state. All have applied to receive funding and have undergone a rigorous vetting process overseen by state employees.

Flip through the CCC Resource Guide & Directory on our homepage at www.coloradocombinedcampaign.org to see 2022's charities, or visit the "donor resources" section of our website for even more comprehensive listings. (There you can also find the answers to many other frequently asked questions about the CCC.)

How do I give?

Give right out of your payroll, in whatever recurring (or one-time) amount works for you. It's convenient, easy and affordable—and every dollar helps. Start by visiting the online giving site, at www.ipledgeonline.org/_coloradocombinedcampaign.

Why should I give?

By supporting our nonprofit community, you're strengthening the many diverse causes it serves—and assisting others along the way. You're building an even better Colorado. Plus, you benefit yourself. Through your donation, you're living your values, with the help of an established and trustworthy giving program. Join in and do something good for others while also doing something good for yourself!
