Help Power a Bright Future

COLORADO COMBINED CAMPAIGN
STATE EMPLOYEES Giving. Caring. Sharing.

2021 CCC RESOURCE GUIDE & DIRECTORY

COLORADO

Governor Jared Polis

September 8, 2021

Dear colleague,

We faced many challenges in 2020, but I can't help but point out the many inspirations, such as how State employees came together to meet the unprecedented needs of Colorado citizens. One way you did this is through your support of last year's Colorado Combined Campaign.

Despite your personal sacrifices, I couldn't be more proud that State of Colorado employees gave more than $715,000 to help charities across our state do important work and continue to serve their communities. To all, I say thank you.

We're shifting into post-pandemic life, but many of the needs brought to the fore remain. That's why we ask for your support of the 2021 CCC.

Colorado is resilient, and a robust nonprofit community is more critical than ever. Food insecurity, opportunities in education and employment, protecting animals and the environment, and looking out for children and families are only a few of the issues that we rely on charities to address. It's essential we help them advance and flourish as the economy improves and we move ahead to a new normal.

As a State employee you have a convenient and affordable way to support those causes that matter most to you. The CCC is your workplace giving campaign, and is available and accessible to all. I ask you to consider giving just a few dollars a paycheck using convenient payroll deduction. It couldn't be easier—or have a bigger impact. As we saw in 2020, when we work together we can move mountains.

Please join me in donating to the CCC this year. Now more than ever, your helping hand matters.

Sincerely,

Governor Jared Polis

136 State Capitol, Denver, CO 80203 | P 303.866.2471 | www.colorado.gov/governor

Finding what you need in this guide

This guide contains information about all of the more than 450 Colorado nonprofits that have applied, been accepted and are eligible for funding through the 2021 campaign. They are sorted three ways, because readers of the guide are looking for different things. What are you looking for?

- If you're searching for a nonprofit by name, go straight to the alphabetical list (starting on page 51).
- If you're interested in a particular cause (animals, mental health and counseling, outdoors and recreation, etc.) and want to see the nonprofit choices within it, go to the listings by cause area. These descriptions (which start on page 7) are the most extensive, offering charity name, description, website address, phone number and service region (area of the state the charity offers its services).
- If you're interested in finding CCC nonprofits by area of the state, go to the listings by giving federation (starting on page 43). Many federations (particularly United Way organizations) are geographically based.
- You can also find CCC charities listed on our website, organized alphabetically and by federation, service region (part of the state) and cause area. Just visit www.coloradocombinedcampaign.org and click on the "Donor Resources" tab.

About the CCC

What is the Colorado Combined Campaign?
The Colorado Combined Campaign (CCC) is Colorado state government's official employee giving program. The state established the campaign in 1987 as a beneficial way for employees to easily and efficiently donate to a wide array of nonprofits and support their communities. Since then, state employees through the CCC have raised $36.2 million for Colorado charities.

How does donating through the CCC work?
As a state employee, you're empowered to give and in charge of it. Each year, you can choose from around 500 Colorado nonprofits that represent more than 20 different causes and every corner of the state. Charities apply to participate and are vetted to ensure the highest levels of legal and regulatory compliance. You also choose how to give, whether through payroll contribution (a few dollars each month) or other options. There is no minimum donation.

Who can participate?
The CCC is a benefit of employment for all state agency employees, and employees of state colleges and universities. It was created by executive order in 1987 and has been endorsed by every Colorado governor since.

What is the benefit of making a donation through the CCC?
The CCC enables you to donate directly out of your payroll, in whatever amount you like. This automatic, incremental giving enables most employees to give more than otherwise might be possible. Additionally, nonprofits can keep their administrative costs lower if they're processing a single, large payment from the CCC versus multiple, smaller payments from individual donors. Also, recurring giving creates a sustained form of funding that helps nonprofits year-round.

Is my donation tax deductible?
Yes. Every agency listed in the CCC Resource Guide & Directory is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Donations to these groups are eligible for tax deduction on your annual income tax form. You will need to retain a copy of your pledge form and (if giving through payroll contribution) a copy of your final pay stub showing the total amount withheld during the calendar year in order to claim your deduction. Workplace giving donations are post-tax, per IRS guidelines.

If I currently give through payroll contribution, do I have to sign up again when there's a new campaign?
Yes. Participation in the CCC is voluntary. Therefore, no one assumes because you gave one year that you'll give the next. It's easy, though, to replicate your online pledge from year to year. Just look for the prompt when you visit your account at www.ipledgeonline.org/_coloradocombinedcampaign.

Can I continue to participate when I retire?
Yes. The CCC offers a retiree giving program that enables employees to continue their philanthropic commitment to their charity, cause, community and state after they retire. Visit the special page at www.coloradocombinedcampaign.org to learn more and make your gift.

Do I get a receipt for my donation?
Your completed and signed pledge form serves as proof of your gift, if you're giving on paper. If you give online, the iPledge giving system will automatically email you a confirmation of your donation.

How do I get my favorite charity on the list?
If you don't see them on the list, let us know at info@coloradocombinedcampaign.org. We'll invite them to apply for 2022 and send them the needed materials that outline all of the required criteria.

Who manages the CCC?
The CCC is managed by Community Shares of Colorado, an expert in workplace charitable services. Community Shares was awarded a contract with the state to run the campaign and works closely with the all-employee CCC Advisory Committee to plan and manage operations. The CCC also partners with volunteers from across state government to run the campaign.

How is the CCC held accountable?
The campaign's activities are overseen by a committee of state employees (the CCC Advisory Committee), which meets nearly every month to set policy, approve plans and guide direction. The CCC Advisory Committee approves the annual budget and monitors expenses each month. In addition, the CCC is audited yearly and is a Colorado nonprofit registered and in good standing with the Secretary of State.

How is the CCC financed?
The CCC's annual budget is determined based on the amount of the previous year's donations. To encourage, process and distribute donations, the CCC incurs operational costs. No campaign expense is born by the state. Rather, the CCC uses a cost-sharing model. To finance their participation, nonprofits allow the CCC to keep 15¢ for every dollar raised to cover essential administrative/ management costs. This amount has been constant for many years and has not increased. Nonprofits apply to be part of the CCC acknowledging the cost-sharing model because it's an economical way for them to reach a large audience of potential donors. One-hundred percent of a donor's gift to the CCC is tax deductible.

Colorado Ballet | www.coloradoballet.org (see page 9)

Is the CCC cost effective?
Yes. In comparison to other forms of fundraising such as grant writing (20¢ for every dollar raised), events (50¢), and, direct mail ($1), workplace giving (15¢) is among the most cost-effective. The current campaign manager, Community Shares of Colorado, has consistently been under budget in managing the CCC for the last six years. Also, the CCC raises funds for hundreds of charities, versus just one.

Why should I give if a portion of my donation doesn't go to my nonprofit?
Technically, all of your donation goes to your nonprofit of choice; your gift is 100% tax deductible. Your nonprofit agrees to allow the CCC to keep 15¢ to cover the cost of generating the donation. Because no state funds can be used to cover the cost of reaching Colorado's 75,000 state employees, the state partners with a nonprofit to help manage the campaign for a low cost. Further, Colorado nonprofits like participating in workplace giving campaigns because the costs are lower than other types of fundraising, the reach is much greater and the contributions are consistent.

Who can I call if I have questions about the CCC?
CCC staff members are available to answer your questions any time. Call us at 720-420-3210 or email info@coloradocombinedcampaign.org. Learn more about the CCC at www.coloradocombinedcampaign.org.

What's new?

Find new charities by looking for the * after their name in the cause listings. In a hurry? Give to a cause (Hunger and Food Assistance, Medical and Health Services, Emergency Services, etc.) or a region of Colorado (Southwest, Northeast, West Central, etc.) by simply picking a CCC Fund. In honor of the times, participate in our virtual charity fairs (learn more on our website).

An additional opportunity: volunteering

Giving through the CCC is an opportunity for you to help your community–and so is volunteering! Volunteers are needed across Colorado to help with important things like mentoring, food distribution, relief to wildfire responders, senior companionship, the ongoing impact of Covid, and more.
