

STATE EMPLOYEES
Giving. Caring. Sharing.

September 4, 2018

Dear colleague,

Our workplace giving campaign, the Colorado Combined Campaign, marks 30 years in 2018. It endures as a great way for state employees to donate to charity.

It's easy: there's no minimum donation, and signing up takes just moments online. It's efficient: the opportunity to give comes to you and you can donate directly from your paycheck, a few dollars at a time. It's empowering: you're in charge of how, how much, when and to whom you give. It's no wonder workplace giving is popular with state employees and a very satisfying way to be philanthropic. Everyone is welcome to participate.

At the Colorado State Patrol, we believe that the quality of life for all of us depends on making good decisions. Pledging to the CCC is a choice that benefits your favorite charity, the cause you care about most, your community and, ultimately, yourself. It feels good to give. There's a practical aspect, too: people need your help. CSP employees live and/or work throughout Colorado. Some of these places are quite underserved. A great aspect of the CCC is that it partners with giving federations, such as United Way organizations, across the state. There are so many places your dollar can go, and we leave every place better when we all give.

Please join me in supporting the CCC. Don't pass up this great opportunity to serve!

Sincerely yours,

Colonel Matthew C. Packard
Chief, Colorado State Patrol
